She is a cut with diamonds in her ears and was raffled has Saturday at a bagaar given at the Waldorf-Astoria by the Little Mothers' Ald Society. Mrs. Charles A. Anderson, who drew the prize, complained that the gems were paste and that Sparkles had a pinchiack pedigree. It was also noticed that the animal had been stepped on in places.

Mrs. Andersor complained about it to the organization of the companization of the companization of the organization.

BIDE-A-WEE GLAD

She sent the superintendent and a veterinary surgeon to the house of Mrs. Anderson, at No. 55 West Ninety-fifth Street, and Sparkles, minus imitation jewels was taken to the hospital.

Mrs. Ribbe said that it was a shame to pleace a cat's car and that she did not know what Mrs. Brooks meant by dons so. It was also found that Sparkles had a badly inflamed foot where either a large shoe, with a hotel porter balanced in it. or a truck had fallen on it. The Walderf-Astoria management emphatically deny that anybody stepped on pussy's foot. The cat is now being treated at expense of the president of the Little Mothers' Ald Society.

MISS MUNROOW ES

Man Who Rushed Her to Pier on Momentous Trip Still Has

Bill Against Her.

NEW YORK, December 2.—It became known yesterday that Miss Norma L. Munro, whose creditors deciare she field the country to keep from paying the debts she had contracted after spending a patrimony of $1,000,000, just managed to catch the steamer that carried her away. She is said to have been the last passenger up the gangplank.

Timing things nicely, she obtained a carrace from the Hall stables, at No. 47 East Sixty-Second Street, and was driven to the pier in Hoboken on October 15th. She told the carriage driver his account would be settled later, and aurried up the gangplank, which was even then being taken in. The account has not been sattled.

on the grainplank, which was even then being taken in. The account has not been sattled.

Miss Munro left a large indebtedness with tradespeople principally for what most persons would consider laxuries, but which to a woman brought up as she had been seemed necessary as food. Hudden to a woman brought up as she had been seemed necessary as food. Hudden the drugstst, of No. $25 Broadway, has an unsatiled account for rare extracts, that of roses, funcy tollet articles and cut glass that generally adorn the dressing table of a woman of fashion and wealth. Mrs. Milenberger, of No. 8 West Thirry-minth Street, has a claim for gowns amounting to seed. A part payment is said to have been made with a check that was worthless.

The firm of Acker, Merrill & Condit were more fortunate. When, after months, Miss Munro falled to pay the word made with them, they placed the account in the hands of an attorney, and a deputy sheriff camped at the West Fifty-ninth Street apartment until she made a settlement.
